COMMUNITY

- Spanning approximately 29 square miles across 4 counties with over 4,722 acres of forest preserves, Barrington Hills is an affluent community located about an hour away from the city of Chicago, incorporated as a village on July 5, 1957. Nestled among winding roads, trees, and rolling hills, residents experience the best of both country and suburban living. Large properties ranging from one to 10+ acres where residents raise their own animals and keep horses.
